The Republicans in New York are not covering the Parker money that is being brought out by the G. O. P. bluff game.

A Philadelphia preacher took for his text last Sunday "Thou Shalt Not Steal." Republicans there will resent that as getting too personal.

The Baltimore Sun states that 15,000 people attended a Democratic barbecue and campaign rally on Monday in that city. What's the matter with Baltimore?

The Hon. W. L. Douglas, the shoe manufacturer and Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts, is making a canvass that will be effective to the last.

How Roosevelt can grin and endure it while Judge Parker is spellbinding right along, is hard to conceive. He must be entered for a chance at the Carnegie hero fund.

One of Judge Parker's most ardent supporters is Jesse R. Grant, youngest son of President Ulysses S. Grant. We have half a mind if General Grant were in the land of the living he would also be a Parker man.

If there were no other reasons why Roosevelt should not be elected President next Tuesday, the fact that Roosevelt has been tried and don't fit the job would be the best of reasons.

The Charlotte Chronicle says "the proprietor of the Garden of Eden" is in jail in that city. We do not know why the arrest was made, but the presumption is he allowed all the fig leaves to get killed by the frost.

The Republican party declares that it must take care of the industries. The voters who are asked to take care of the industries would like to be in half as good a fix as the captains of industry whom the people are begged to help.

Judge Parker is in the whirlwind campaign this week and is making some bold and stirring speeches that show that he is a man of firm convictions. He will speak every day during the balance of the campaign.

The Republican spellbinders have declared from every stump during the campaign that there are no issues. They have had plenty to do, however, in making a defence of the malodorious record of the Republican party.

Bishop McCabe, of Hartford, Conn., wants the United States and Great Britain to combine and clean up Turkey. Wait till Thanksgiving Day, November 24th, and you will see the United States handle one branch of the turkey question by itself.

TERM IS NEARING END

Docket of District Cases Completed in the United States Court Yesterday.

THREE TO ATLANTA PRISON.

The Sampson Men Convicted of Blockading Sentenced to Two Years Each and to Pay $500 Fine—Matter of Postoffice Swindlers.

The docket in the United States District Court was practically completed yesterday afternoon. There were only 36 cases for trial at the outset and a majority of the defendants in those submitted, requiring but little time of the court. The Circuit Court docket and cases in admiralty on the District Court docket will be called this morning, after which a recess for the term will be taken. Judge Purnell announced to the bar yesterday afternoon that the civil docket would be called, peremptorily, this morning and advised all interested to be in attendance. A limited number of jurors were excused yesterday afternoon in anticipation of the fact that there will be very little to do this morning.

Yesterday morning upon the convening of court Judge Purnell passed sentence upon A. P. Honarine, J. H. Bradshaw and G. W. Bass, the three white men of Sampson county convicted the day before of blockading and having in their possession liquor upon which tax had not been paid. Each of the defendants was sentenced to two years in the Federal prison at Atlanta and to pay a fine of $500 and costs. They will be sent to Atlanta to-day or to-morrow by Marshal Dockery. The following unimportant cases were disposed of during the day:

Ferry Jones, Scotland; retailing; judgment nisi; ten days to file new bond.

Alice Tillman and Susan Russell, Cumberland, retailing; personal bond for recognizance at next term.

John Evelyn, Cumberland, retailing; verdict guilty; $100 fine and 60 days in Cumberland jail.

William Priest, Robeson; shooting into and damaging rural mail box; juror withdrawn and a mistrial had; account of absence of an important witness.

The grand jury came into court about 11 o'clock and made report through Foreman Matt J. Heyer and Secretary W. P. Oldham that 19 bills had been presented for action and that 17 had been returned true and two not true bills.

Before adjourning yesterday morning the grand jury examined a number of witnesses and returned true bills against Jim Burns and Edd Smith, the negro money order swindlers who operated here, at Fayetteville, Greensboro and at several other places in the State, and who were cleverly captured through the instrumentality of Postoffice Inspector S. H. Buck, who was the chief witness yesterday. It will be remembered that Burns was captured and confessed to Inspector Buck at Savannah several months ago, and that his mate, Edd Smith, was captured in Henderson, Ky., on Oct. 8th. The method of their operation is well known by readers of this paper. Upon return of the true bill yesterday Judge Purnell ordered that a capias, with a certified copy of the bill be sent to the United States District Court of Georgia and also to the Western district of Kentucky. Col. Harry Skinner, the district attorney, said last night in talking of the case that there was a strong probability the negroes would be brought here for the trial as the government in the examination before the grand jury made out a very strong case. Inspector Buck said that he had instances of where the negroes had defrauded people of between $2,000 and $3,000, and the question of place of trial, as was also said by District Attorney Skinner, would be where the largest number of counts could be obtained. The negro Mr. Buck has at Henderson gives the name of George Williams but there appears little doubt but that he is the accomplice of Burns and the slicker of the two. Mr. Buck has photographs of Williams and these were identified here yesterday by Mr. A. H. Zoeller as the same negro who entered the store of his brother with Burns, and by Mr. E. L. Davis as the same one who came in Mr. I. Shrier's store with Burns, at neither of which establishments were the negroes able to get off any of their spurious paper. Mr. Buck will shortly go to Savannah, where the negro Burns is held in jail, pending his trial in the Federal court, and will later have Williams identified as Edd Smith by parties from Wilmington or Savannah, at Henderson, Ky.

SOME DISTINCTIVE TRIUMPHS.

What Was Said for "Modern Shakespeare" and "Prodigal and Dove" May be Said of Next Attraction.

If the forthcoming play by the Wilmington Light Infantry Dramatic Club may be judged by the productions given by the same company earlier in the season—and it is fair to assume that it will eclipse both the former successes—it will be a magnificent affair indeed. Here are a few excerpts from the criticisms of the former plays. Of "A Modern Shakespeare," it was truthfully said:

"It reflected credit upon both the management and artistic talent of each and every person connected with the production. * * * The audience was a most fashionable and brilliant one, and it demonstrated in a flattering way its marked appreciation of the production. * * * The play itself was a perfect success and went off without a hitch. * * * It is only necessary to say if you did not go you missed a treat and and if you did go you know without our telling you how well each one deserved the highest praise and commendation. * * * Humor and good nature bristled in every line and the appreciation of the audience was evidenced by numerous and hearty bursts of applause."

Of "The Prodigal and The Dove" it was faithfully recorded:

"Nothing seen at the local playhouse this season, professional or otherwise, has eclipsed the artistic success of the magnificent production of the bright and clever four-act comedy, 'The Prodigal and the Dove.' * * * Aside from its artistic triumph, the production was also the occasion of easily the leading society event of the season. * * * In a favorable criticism of a local production one is often charged with being unduly influenced by a favoritism for home talent and home auspices, but the presentation last night needs no further commendation than its own real merit. * * * The costumes worn by the ladies, the stage accessories, and every other environment were as elaborate and as complete as those of any New York success brought to the local playhouse in a season. * * * The entire production was directed and staged by Mr. James H. Cowan, and that popular young thespian has added to the laurels which were already his own."

SOCIETY EVENT THEATRICAL.

Mr. Paul Gilmore, Talented Young Actor, in Last Season's Triumph Again.

An interesting story is that unfolded in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" which will again be seen in this city next Monday night at the Academy with Paul Gilmore and his splendid company. Local theatre goers undoubtedly remember the big hit made by this rising young star and his company in the same play in this city about a year ago; but for the benefit of those who did not see it last season the nucleus of the story is herewith given.

A vivacious young woman is married to a typical English gentleman, Lord "Jack Lumley," the part played by Paul Gilmore, who devotes himself and all of his time to a series of scientific experiments and thoughtlessly neglects his young wife, leaving her to seek her own amusements. His devotion to his work to the exclusion of society has led his friends to nicknaming him the "Mummy." In seeking her own pleasure, the wife, Lady Lumley, meets and for a time at least becomes infatuated with a brilliant youg Italian literary man, Signor D'Orelli, the "Humming Bird," by whom she is tempted to the verge of an elopement, but sees the man in his true character before the fatal step is taken. In "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" Mr. Gilmore has achieved even greater success than his predecessors in the part and this season his tour is proving one solid chain of triumphs.

The sale of seats will commence at Plummer's to morrow morning.

Pleasure Yachts in Port.

The auxiliary yacht "Regina," Captain Samuel L. Clayton and wife, arrived in at Wrightsville Beach Inlet late Tuesday afternoon en route from the North to Florida. This is Capt. Clayton's third visit to Cape Fear waters. He is a clever, genial yachtsman whom the port is always glad to welcome. The auxiliary yacht "Roamer," Capt. H. C. Rome, bound for Florida from the North, also arrived yesterday. This is Capt. Rome's fourth visit to the port and he, too, has a host of warm friends here. The yachts are racing down the coast and are very close together. They reported to the Rudder Station, in charge of Capt. C. D. Maffitt here.

Fleet-Davis.

The following invitations have been received by friends in the city: "Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fleet request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Edna Louise, to Mr. James Love Davis on Wednesday afternoon, November the sixteenth, nineteen hundred and four, at five o'clock, Fifth Street Methodist Church South, Wilmington, N. C. At home after November 26th, at 209 North Seventh street, Wilmington."

Steamboat Office.

A neat and convenient office has been opened by the Wilmington, Southport and Little River Company in the freight and passenger shed of the line at No. 4 and 6 South Water street. Mr. Edward B. Moore, formerly book-keeper for Stone & Co., has been made general agent of the steamboat company. Mr. J. G. Stanley, who has been in the A. C. L. auditing department, has succeeded Mr. Moore as book-keeper for Stone & Co.

AN EDITOR IN COURT.

Judge Peebles Served Rule in Contempt on Newspaper Man in Tarboro Yesterday.

HOWEVER, NO ATTACHMENT.

Writer of Article Admitted Going Beyond Bounds of Propriety, But Purged Himself of Wilful Violation—Thereupon Was Released.

[Special Star Telegram.]

TARBORO, N. C., Nov. 3.—A writ was issued yesterday noon, citing Editor Powell, of the Daily Southerner, to appear before his Honor Judge R. B. Peebles who is holding a term of civil court here, at 10:30 o'clock this morning and show cause why he should not be held in contempt and fined for publishing an item in his daily issue of Oct. 29th, alleged to have reflected upon the integrity of the court. Mr. Powell's answer was filed through his attorney at the appointed hour and after acknowledging having overstepped the boundary of the press in the commission of the error and retracting the article, His Honor rescinded the rule.

TARBORO, N. C., Nov. 2.—The publication of the article which gave offence to Judge Peebles and the court occurred on Saturday afternoon, but the matter did not come, or was not brought to the Judge's attention until Monday. His Honor thought the matter of sufficient moment to require official action, hence the issuance of the rule Tuesday at noon. The criticism of Judge Peebles in Saturday's issue of the Southerner was admittedly rather severe and there are those who commend Editor Powell for his manly retraction, while others, sensationally inclined, were hopeful for a repetition of the Lumberton incident, which caused so much comment all over the State a few months ago.

The service of the rule on the editor, who is quite popular with his constituency, created a sensation and the affair was much talked of on the streets here both before and after the disposition of the case.

Editor Powell has been engaged in the publication of the daily and weekly Southerner at Tarboro for several years and while he is usually very conservative, he is vigorous and a facile writer in his editorial columns. The Southerner is one of the best known Democratic papers in the East, publishing both an afternoon daily and a weekly edition.

To-morrow evening he will speak at Fayetteville, and on Saturday at a big barbecue and rally at Snow Hill, Greene county.

Capt. R. W. Gibson Injured.

The hosts of friends of Capt. R. W. Gibson will hear with regret of a severe accident which befel him on Monday at his saw mill in Brunswick county. Capt. Gibson had stumbled and as he went to catch to break the fall, three fingers of his left hand were caught in a saw and cut off. Dr. Goodman, of El Paso, was summoned and dressed the hand. Tuesday afternoon Capt. Gibson came to the city and is now at his home.

Mr. McLaurin Not Improved.

Friends of Mr. John McLaurin, who was stricken with paralysis ten days ago, will regret to know that his condition was not so favorable yesterday. His daughter, Mrs. Jones, of Durham, has been at his bedside with other members of the family for some time.

AFFAIRS IN DUPLIN.

Superior Court in Session—Judge Winston's Address—A Reception.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

KENANSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 2.—Court met here on Monday morning, Judge Fred Moore presiding and Rodolph Duffy acting as solicitor. The week to date has been taken up with trying criminal cases of slight importance. By Friday morning the criminal docket will be cleared except the two cases of State vs Geo. Daniels and State vs Dan Teachey, for the murder of Will Maxwell and Robert Rivenbark, respectively. Geo. Daniels was arraigned this morning and a special venire of 200 jurymen placed in the hands of the Sheriff, returnable Friday morning, when the Daniels case will be called for trial. The Teachey case will be called for trial on Monday next and it is expected that the week will be consumed in trying it.

Charles L. Abernethy and Thomas E. Owen, electors for the Democrats and Republicans, respectively, spoke in the court house here yesterday to a fair-sized crowd, and Judge Francis D. Winston spoke to-day on behalf of the Democracy to a similar crowd and with marked success. There is no better speaker in North Carolina and he will carry the solid vote of Duplin. After making allowances for the general apathy, it is safe to say Duplin will give a Democratic majority of 600. We have three candidates for the Legislature: H. D. Williams, Democrat; L. W. Hodges, Independent, and Clyde Seawall, Republican. It is anticipated that the Independent and Republican candidates will get together before election day, but this will not effect the result, as the strength of both are drawn from the Populists, who have never had over 804 votes in the county.

The faculty and students of the James Sprunt Institute gave a public reception on Monday night and there was a large attendance, including the judge and the bar. The Institute is in a very thriving condition.

Mrs. Judge Moore and child arrived from Asheville to-day and will remain here during the term of court.

The insurance companies claim the fire started from sparks thrown by engines using wood and equipped for coal, the railroad being therefore negligent and liable. The Carolina Hardware Company was chartered here to-day to purchase and enlarge the business of R. E. Prince on Wilmington street, W. C. Tucker, a well known hardware travelling man, being the principal incorporator.

CIRCUS DAY IN CHARLESTON.

Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' Exhibition on Thursday of Last Week.

The Charleston News and Courier of last Friday says of Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Show which will be seen here Nov. 15th:

Replete with novelties that are really novel, original with acts that compel undivided attention, with never an instant when the spectator is not an eager witness to the performances of the actors and actresses in the ring and in mid-air, the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Enormous United Shows yesterday afternoon and last evening played to two immense audiences, and it was the verdict of every spectator that not in many years has a circus pitched its tent in Charleston equal to the one here yesterday.

The special trains, three sections, arrived in the city from Savannah about 7 o'clock yesterday morning and, in a slow, drizzling rain, the animals which comprise the menagerie and the other paraphernalia were unloaded and hauled to Hampton Park, where the several tents were soon in position.

But despite the unpleasant weather the attendance at both performances was very large, and it can safely be said that no circus that has visited Charleston during the past quarter of a century made a better impression than the Forepaugh & Sells' show. From the grand opening until Prodigous Porthos rides down a 90-foot incline and, with the acquired momentum, leaps over eight elephants to al ght on the broken pathway, the spectators were in breathless contemplation of the innumerable and varied features set before their eyes in seeming confusion, but withal, perfect system. Commencing with the large concert band, under the direction of W. N. Merrick, on through every performance, every feature of the great melange of amusement was of unusual excellence and the spectators were not slow to voice their approval.

It would be impossible as well as tedious to describe in detail the various acts and to mention the names of the hundreds of performers, tight rope artists, acrobats, trick riders, etc., would take columns. The cake-walking horse, the trained dogs and elephants, and countless other attractions deserved the attention which they received.

The Aurora Zouaves, the best trained military organization on earth, under Capt. Tarble, held the attention of the crowd for some twenty minutes, and at the close of their remarkable drill they surmounted a barrier fifteen feet high in thirty seconds. They use no ladders nor anything else save their guns to assist them. Their gun movements are greater in number and more varied than those shown by any other drillers in the world and are executed with a lightning like rapidity—so fast that it is almost impossible to follow them with the eye. In their marching the same rapidity is maintained and their movements are as astonishing for their novelty and intricacy as for their speed.

The equestrian acts, particularly that by Miss Emma Stickney; the Eddy family on the flying trapeze; Monsieur Hubert, juggling on horse back; the LeCammens in a high wire act; the Jordan family on the flying trapeze and the Lecussons in "A trip to the Grand Prix," are but a few of the features deserving especial mention. Suffice it to say that no disparaging criticisms were made by any one, that all were well repaid and received more than their money worth, and that the Forepaugh & Sells Brothers gave Charleston an instructive and exciting day of it yesterday.

WHAT ARE WE COMING TO?

We have read about imperial and autocratic censorship, but the New York World calls attention to a case of government intervention in our country that takes the cake. We allude to an order issued by the Post Office Department preventing criticisms of the Republican policy in the Philippines from being sent through the mails in the United States. The Washington Post quoting from the World and commenting thereupon, says under the heading, "Can such things be:"

It is difficult if not impossible to believe that the Post Office Department has issued a fraud order to prevent the circulation through the mail service of a pamphlet exposing certain alleged conditions in the Philippines. Such, however, is the charge contained in an article published by the New York World of Monday last. This article sets forth the proposition that one Charles J. Mitchell, formerly employed in the office of the attorney general at Manila, but not resident in New York, has been denied the use of the mails simply and solely because the document he has prepared contains unpleasant and injurious revelations.

We give an extract from the story as printed in the World:

"Mitchell is the author of a pamphlet entitled 'How We Run Our Colonial Civil Service,' which he intended to sell through advertisement to young men contemplating service under the government in the Philippines. It is a severe criticism of the Taft administration, and any one who reads it is likely to stay at home.

"Mitchell's mail was stopped October 20 on a fraud order issued by the Postoffice Department. He asserts that there was no fraud in his scheme for selling his book, and that the department disregarded the request of his attorney for a hearing on the merits of the case. He has appealed to President Roosevelt to re-open the case, and holds himself ready to submit to criminal prosecution if fraud is shown.

"In the meantime the sale of the pamphlet, which cost him much time and money, has been stopped, simply, he claims, because it contained facts which the Republican administration did not wish to have circulated."

This is not a pretty story. It is so very ugly, indeed, that we cannot believe it to be true in any important respect. Leaving out all other considerations, and passing by the question of Mr. Mitchell's standing and responsibility, the charge here made that the Postoffice Department has forbidden the circulation of a pamphlet and has refused a hearing to the victim of this tyrannical order is so obnoxious, so suggestive of the star-chamber and the Middle Ages, we are simply unable to assign it a place in the list of credible or even possible propositions. Of course, the mere existence of such a power—the power involved in the "fraud-order" prerogative—must needs be fruitful of suspicion and discontent.

It is hard to believe that the administration would go to the length of arbitrarily suppressing Mr. Mitchell's pamphlet, but the Republican party has drifted so far away from Republican principles that a Republican administration has done things equally as autocratic. Have the American people got to such a stage of submission or indifference that they will give support to a party with such dangerous tendencies?

STAND PAT PROSPERITY.

One hears much talk of prosperity and most people wonder why it is that if the times are so prosperous they find it so hard to make both ends meet.

When conditions reach that stage it means that one class of the people is paying more than their share to make another class prosperous. People pay indirect tariff taxes and buy at inflated prices brought on by the carnival of so-called prosperity and it is only a matter of time till the bottom is reached and they have nothing else to be fleeced out of. The fruits of their industry have gone to enrich a class who, already rich, have been fattening their pile by an unequal and unfair Republican protective tariff that cotemplates no equitable distribution but causes wealth to drift into the hands of the favored class. When the limit of paying out everything and accumulating nothing is reached, hard times set in because there is no more wool on the back of the sheep. This accounts for the rotating periods of prosperity and prostration which we have in this country under Republican policy.

One class is made prosperous by unjust tariff laws and the other class depends for prosperity on good crop years and the consequent opportunity for employment.

The contest for existence is unequal and yet the Republican party stands pat on high protective duties that make the already rich richer and keep the nose of the less fortunate class on the grindstone or wear them out trying to make ends meet.

That condition of affairs will continue till the people regain their senses and refuse support to the Republican party that stands for taxing most all the people for the benefit of a few of the people. There is plenty of prosperity in the country—for a few—and they do more talking than the many who are getting it in the neck by paying high tariff duties and high prices on everything they wear and consume. Politics can devise no system by which all the people can be made prosperous, but the policies of a political party can and does make a few prosperous by bleeding one class for the benefit of the protected class. General prosperity cannot be brought about by any one party, but equal chances for industry and intelligence in a fair field for all, with the burdens fairly distributed, will come the nearest to making every tube stand on its own bottom. That is a fair proposition, and it is what Judge Parker promises through the Democratic party.

ANOTHER CASE FOR THE HAGUE

The Charlotte Observer and the Norfolk Landmark are still arguing about the sex of angels, the Norfolk paper contending that it is male and the Observer female. The STAR has been the innocent bystander in this controversy. We have been struck (observe the word struck, will you) by the arguments of the exegetist of the Observer and the biblicist of the Landmark, but we had to retire owing to the labyrinthian scope which those two brilliant controversialists gave to the subject. If we may be let off, we will say this, that the controversy between the esteemed Landmark and the esteemed Observer has opened our eyes to the wonders of sophistry when two pastmasters get to exchanging entertaining if not edifying sophisms. If other editors will observe how they are digging down into "the facts of the case" and only pausing now and then to make a few side-wipes with harmless aspersions and playful animadversions, they will be glad to be out of it. It is getting to look like work for both sides, and its final may be at The Hague.

This is the way the Wilson News copies it and adds to it: Says the Raleigh News and Observer: "A Cincinnati woman has brought suit for $15,000 for a stolen kiss. If a kiss stolen from a Cincinnati girl is worth $15,000, the market price in Raleigh would be one million dollars." "A multi-millionaire would go broke right here in Wilmington."—Wilmington Star. Croesus, if living, would not dare smile on a Wilson girl—for over the hill to the poor house he would soon go.

The flume is getting ready to do business with the hopes of political aspirants on next Tuesday.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— What profiteth a man to be granted a 5 per cent. increase in wages when he is assessed 25 per cent. more on his table necessaries?—Baltimore Sun.

—— Republicans are much disappointed that Mr. Bryan seems to believe it his duty to elect Judge Parker and not to defeat him.—Washington Post.

—— Baltimore's export trade did not even get down to the phoenix stage. The fire consumed a great deal of property, but the city's energy was above setbacks of any sort.—Baltimore Sun.

—— If this were not election time, President Roosevelt might feel it his duty, as self-constituted censor of the small fry, to use the "big stick" on Santo Domingo because of the customs frauds discovered in that republic.—Norfolk Landmark.

—— Judge Parker will have an excellent opportunity to test his staying powers this week. He is to make a speeech every day, and as many as three speeches on some days. This will be his contribution to the "whirlwind of oratory" with which the campaign will end.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

—— The deficit in the treasury now amounts to nearly $23,000,000 for four months of the fiscal year. Expenditures steadily grow while receipts do not increase. The administration shows no signs of keeping expenses within bounds of receipts, and if Roosevelt is reelected the deficit will grow to tremendous proportions.—Columbia Record

—— Hitherto the Eagle has permitted its postal-card canvass to tell its own story practically without comment. On this occasion it has an opinion to express. Indeed, it may be said to have a conviction. The logic of the figures is that three is to be a change in the party auspices under which the affairs have been administered at Washington. That such a change is impending the Eagle is now convinced. It is sincere in the belief that Alton B. Parker will, on Tuesday of next week, be elected President of the United States. The only anchor it has cast to the windward is the suggestion that its readers await the completion of the canvass. Should corroboration come next Sunday, about all that lingers now will disappear.—Brookly (N. Y.) Eagle.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back for an Old One—How It Is done in Wilmington.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Wilmington citizen.

J. A. White, electrician for the Coast Line Railroad, at Rocky Mount, residing at 206 North Sixth street, says: "I have had great trouble with my back, right across the loins, and when I sit still for a while I hardly knew how to move and when I did you would think I was seventy-five years old. There were pains all over me and I could not tell where they were to strike me. I used liniments and lots of remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and used them. They helped me in a very short time and seemed almost to oil up my joints; in fact, I have not had the pains since I used them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of ten to 12 points in response to higher cables, predictions for rains over the central and eastern belts and talk of a better spot situation in the South. Local longs showed a disposition to take profits on the initial bulge, and there was also selling credited to Wall street, but New Orleans and the Southwest sent in buying orders, there was a fair demand from abroad, and with shorts covering the market showed continued firmness with prices in the afternoon up a net gain of about eighteen to twenty points. Toward the close increased realizing caused a partial reaction, but the market was finally steady at a net gain of eight to twelve points. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales. Private advices attributed the gains in Liverpool to good trade conditions in Manchester, less liberal offerings of spot in the South, and buying by American and Continental operators. Here business seemed to be a little more general than for several days past. There were persistent rumors again as to the starting up of Fall River mills after the middle of November which may have had some influence on sentiment. Port receipts continue very large, but the interior movement is running behind last year's.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Cotton was steady at 10.15c, net receipts — bales; gross receipts 6,905 bales; stock 79,531 bales.

We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Durham Herald: Some of the newspapers are kicking because the politicians impose upon them, but they cannot expect them to offer to pay for a service where no charge is made.

— The State Association of County Superintendents of Public Schools will convene in the hall of the House of Representatives, in Raleigh, on Wednesday, November 30th, and continue in session through Thursday, December 1st.

— The Raleigh Times, referring to the Northern settlers, says: Most of the voters at Southern Pines will vote for Roosevelt, but will vote the county and State Democratic ticket. There are a number of voters there, however, who do not like Roosevelt, but who are thoroughly committed to the National Republican party.

— Salisbury Sun: It is refreshing to hear the Raleigh Times talk in this fashion: "It's not claimed by advocates of the dispensary that it's a moral issue, nor was it claimed that it was a temperance measure." While the Times may not make the claims mentioned there are those who do. We repeat, the candor of the Times is truly refreshing.

— The Gibson postoffice was entered and robbed some time Monday night. The robber got about one hundred dollars in cash and several dollars worth of stamps. Bloodhounds were sent for, but proved unable to follow the burglar. There is no clue as to the burglars. Their escape seems certain. This is thought to be the work of an organized band.

— Raliegh News and Observer: — North Carolinians are forging to the front wherever they go. Among the most popular of the younger political speakers in New York city in the present campaign is Mr. Percey Whitaker, son of the late Judge Spier Whitaker of this city. He inherits ability on both sides of the family and his friends predict for him a brilliant future in the metropolis.

— Charlotte Chronicle: The New York Evening Sun continues to print evidence that the Republican candidate for Governor of that State will be overwhelmingly defeated. The Brooklyn Eagle's poll of New York city shows that Parker will lead Herrick there by thousands of votes. It is fair to assume that throughout the State, Parker will run about even with Herrick and the State is therefore Parker's.

— Charlotte Observer: No handsomer or more touching thing has been said by or of any man during this campaign than that said by Governor Aycock in his speech at Raleigh Friday night of ex-Judge Francis D. Winston, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor. The Oyserver ventures to express the hope that no Democratic voter will scratch Judge Winston. It is true that he was once, many years ago, a Republican, but there ought to be forgiveness in politics.

— State Entomologist Franklin Sherman left Raleigh on Monday for Shreveport, La., to represent North Carolina in a convention of specialists to be held there for the purpose of considering ways and means of checking the spread of the cotton boll weevil which seems to be making alarming advances in Texas and Louisiana. In the latter State the pest has spread into five additional parishes. The conference will have under consideration every phase of the subject, including legislation through which the shipment of infected products may be prevented.

— Charlotte Chronicle: Charlotte and its suburbs have a larger population than the entire State of Nevada. That State this year elected a United States senator, one congressman, a justice of the Supreme Court and two regents. The three electoral votes of Nevada, it is claimed, will be given to Parker, despite the fact that it is a silver State. Judge Parker's gold telegram is said to have hit the widely scattered population of Nevada pretty hard. Yet it is claimed that there is but a slight deflection, and more than five-sixths of them will support Parker, not that they love him more on the financial issue, but that they love Roosevelt less. They recall that Roosevelt accused in open speech those who believed and advocated free coinage as being "guilty of financial dishonesty." The Democrats of Nevada will support Parker to a man.

— Jim Martin, twenty four years old, a farmer living on the Widow Gooding's place, near Haskins Chapel Jones county, took his own life, Wednesday evening, at his home, by shooting himself with a shotgun. Mr. Martin was a tenant on Mrs. Gooding's farm. It is said he was in love with the widow and believing that another was supplanting him in her affections brooded over the matter. Martin and the widow Gooding were sitting on the porch of the house when they heard dogs baying in the woods. Martin took the gun from the rack and said he would kill what they had treed. He went off some distance from the house and after tying a string to the trigger of the gun removed the shoe from his right foot and leaning on the end of the gun with the muzzle pointing directly at his heart pulled the trigger with his toe. The whole load of shot entered his left breast, killing him instantly.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an advertisement of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50 cents, at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

— She: Miss Flippant wears fearfully heavy earrings, doesn't she? He: Yes, she has to—for ballast.—Detroit Free Press.

— Dr. J. J. Mott, former State chairman of the Republican party of North Carolina, in a statement issued from his home in Statesville, says, among other things: "It has come to me from reliable sources that it has been industriously stated by advocates of Candidate Blackburn that I will vote for him for Congress on election day. I have said all the time I would not vote for him and I will not. I would like to see a Republican elected to Congress from this district, but not one of his stripe. His election would do the party more harm than good. Parties are never built up by such examples as his, but are torn down. I hope the Republican candidate for governor will get a strong vote, one which will inspire confidence that two parties can be built up in North Carolina, each strong enough to make the other do right. * * * There are a lot of people in North Carolina who would vote the Republican ticket but for the Republican leadership in the State. Each such individual ought to vote the ticket for President this year to prevent any change in business. Suppose they did so and this State's electoral vote saved the Republican President. The same voters could lead the party in the future in spite of the nincompoops and whippersnappers of the Blackburn stripe, who have dragged it in the dust. The rank and file of the Republicans in North Carolina are ready for this new leadership."

— Norfolk, Va., Oct. 31.—While singing a solo at the morning service of Zion (colored) Baptist Church yesterday morning, John A. Jeffries, a member of the choir, dropped dead, from a hemorrhage in the brain.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THURSDAY MORNING. NOV. 3.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION AT MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.

Killed One Man and Injured Forty Other Persons—Great Damage to Property. Many Buildings Wrecked.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The explosion of over a ton of dynamite under the Bond street bridge here at 1 o'clock to-day shook the city and the surrounding country within a radius of five miles, probably killed at least one person and injured nearly forty others, two of whom may die. The man supposed to have been killed was an Italian in charge of the dynamite. He was seen at his post of duty just before the explosion and no trace of him has since been found.

There were 2,300 pounds of dynamite stored at the side of a deep rock cut, which was used for blasting a path for additional tracks. The explosion tore a hole in the ground eighty feet deep, that is now full of water from a hidden spring, wrecked the Bond street bridge over the railway tracks, and broke all the windows within a quarter of a mile. The force of the explosion, as is usual, was downward, but the upheaval along the sides of the cut hurled large stones for blocks. Many houses were shifted from their foundations, walls were stripped of plaster and furniture was splintered.

Most of the persons injured were caught by falling ceilings and walls in the houses nearby. Stoves in stores and dwellings were overturned and many fires were started, but in each case the flames were quickly extinguished.

Chief of Police Foley at once arrested William F. Ryan, foreman of the gang of workmen employed on the blasting operations, and many witnesses are now held while an investigation is being made into the cause of the explosion.

APPALLING MINE ACCIDENT.

Ten Men Hurled to Instant Death and Three Others Injured by the Fall of Mine Carriage at Nanticoke, Pa.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Nov. 2.—One of the most appalling mine accidents in the history of the Wyoming Valley for many years past occurred at No. 1 Auchincloss shaft, operated by the Delaware, Lackawana and Western Coal Company at Nanticoke, at an early hour this morning, by which ten men were hurled to instant death and three seriously injured.

The men were mostly all upon the mine carriage to be lowered to the workings below. The signal was given to the engineer who began lowering the men. The carriage had gone but a few feet when the engineer lost control of his engines, owing to the reverse levers failing to work, and the carriage, with its load of human freight, ten in all, was dashed beyond the Ross vein landing nearly 1100 feet below the surface and from there they were precipitated 300 feet further into a sump. Those who may not have been killed outright were without doubt drowned in the sump which is fully fifty feet deep with water.

Up to 8 o'clock tonight no human aid could reach them and every man on the ill fated carriage has been given up by the mine officials as lost.

NEW RAILROAD.

Virginia & Southeastern Chartered—Coal, Iron and Oil Men Interested.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 2.—The State Corporation Commission to-day granted a charter to the Virginia & Southeastern Railway Company. The capital stock is placed at from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000. The main office of the company is at Bristol, Tenn.

The promoters of the enterprise are said to be interested with John D. Rockefeller and other coal, iron and oil men, and have unlimited capital. It is understood that the new road is to connect at some point in the southwestern part of the State with the Tidewater railroad, chartered by the commission some time ago. The directors named in the charter are: Oliver H. Payne, New York; Grant Schley, New York; Walter Ferguson and Henry K. McHarg, Stamford, Conn.; Jno. B. Newton, J. Bewley and D. D. Hull, Jr., Bristol, Tenn.

FATAL AFFRAYS.

Four Men Killed and One Man Mortally Wounded in Personal Altercations.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., November 2.—Within the past fifteen hours four men have been killed and one fatally wounded in personal altercations in the Birmingham district. At Lewisburg, Jack Yarborough, a merchant, and J. V. Phillips, a miner, quarreled over a game of cards. Yarborough was killed instantly and Phillips died several hours later.

At Cardiff, W. M. Mulkin, a white mine striker, applied an epithet to Percy Burns, a negro miner, and a pistol duel followed. Mulkin was shot through the brain but lived for four hours. Burns will die.

At Dolomite, during a negro wedding, a drunken guest raised a disturbance and when the negro minister remonstrated with him he shot the preacher dead.

COAL MINERS STRIKE.

In Mines Along the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 2.—According to advices received here to-day from the Kanawha, W. Va., coal fields, there is a strike on in some of the mines along the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, with a prospect of all mines in that region being tied up in like manner in the near future unless matters in dispute are settled before the end of this week. These advices say that the strike was brought about by the operators posting notices discriminating against union men.

WATER RESERVOIR COLLAPSE

Houses Washed Away in the Night Time. Miraculous Escapes—Structure Had Been Condemned, But the City Had Failed to Remove It.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—One of the most rousing receptions of the campaign was given Judge Parker tonight in Cooper Union, where he addressed a large meeting held under the auspices of the German-American Parker Union. The candidate substituted for former President Cleveland, who was scheduled originally to address the gathering, but was compelled to cancel the engagement.

Other speakers at the meeting were Carl Schurz, the presiding officer; Geo. von Skal and Sigmund Zeisler, of Chicago. All of the addresses were in German except that of Judge Parker.

Under escort of mounted policemen in charge of Inspector Brooks, Judge Parker arrived at Cooper Union at 8:23 o'clock. Before his arrival there was a display of bombs and other fireworks in the square north of the building. The candidate was warmly cheered by the crowd about the building. He entered by the platform door on Fourth avenue. He was shown to the stage by officers of the union, in charge of the meeting, and met Mr. Schurz in full view of the audience. They clasped hands in a greeting that lasted fully a minute while the crowd looked on and cheered approvingly. The reception given the candidate was but a repetition of others that have been given him in New York, and in fact, on every occasion where he has made public addresses. The demonstration continued eight minutes before he was permitted to begin his speech.

Judge Parker's speech was almost entirely devoted to the subjects of imperialism and militarism and the subjects seemed peculiarly popular with the audience of German-Americans. He was interrupted frequently with prolonged applause and once when he paid homage to Mr. Schurz personally as one who had "felt the blighting power" of militarism, Mr. Schurz came forward and shook Judge Parker by the hand and thanked him for his words. The audience stood up and shouted its approval.

Judge Parker's Speech.

Judge Parker, after discussing the moral effect of the policy of conquest, as shown in the disregard for the principle that governments derive their powers from the consent of the governed, and in the attempt to dominate and suppress public discussion and opinion, spoke of the great power wielded by the President in the conduct of our foreign relations, saying:

"The constitution provides that only Congress shall have power to declare war. But it is within the power of the President, if he desires war, to create by his conduct of our foreign relations situations which make war inevitable. It may happen that on such an occasion Congress, being opposed to war, would not consent to it if consulted beforehand; but it may be confronted by things already done, by accomplished facts, which make the escape from war exceedingly difficult if not impossible.

"The President may then force a war upon the country in spite of the adverse opinion of Congress. He may do this, keeping, as to the exercise of his power, within the letter of the constitution, although flagrantly violating its spirit and intent; and he may do this sure of the subsequent approval and support of Congress, which, when an accomplished fact has put our country in an attitude more or less hostile to a foreign power, is usually very reluctant to disavow our government. We have an illustration of this in the history of the Panama affair, it being very doubtful whether Congress, even the Republican part of it, would, if previously consulted, have approved the policy pursued by the administration, while the accomplished fact easily commanded the acceptance of the majority.

"The power of the executive is evidently a very dangerous one—dangerous to the peace of the country as well as to the integrity of our institutions—unless the President cherishes a conscientious respect for the constitutional limitations of his power and an overruling desire religiously to observe the spirit and intent as well as the letter of the constitution as well as an innate love of peace and fair dealing. You may judge for yourselves how dangerous is such a power under the influence of the imperialistic tendency, with the lust of conquest and dominion, its love of adventure and military achievement and its proneness to impulsive action and dramatic display.

"The imperialistic tendency armed with that power will be all the more dangerous when it is at the same time armed with an ample supply of fighting material ready for action. Until a very recent period, we enjoyed the priceless blessing of living in perfect peace and security without bearing the burden of a large army and navy, costing untold millions a year—a unique privilege of which other nations, groaning under heavy military and naval expenditures, envied us most heartily. Our imperialists now tell us that this must cease to be so. According to them we must have a much larger army in proportion than before, and our secretary of the navy assures us that we must have the biggest navy in the world, whatever the cost.

"Have you ever seen anybody able to give you an intelligent and satisfactory reason why we must have those things? Some say that we must have them to protect our commerce. I ask, then, has there ever been a single moment since the year 1812 when our commerce suffered in the least from the want of a big navy to protect it? Others say we must have it to enforce the Monroe doctrine. Was there ever, before or since our civil war, a single occasion when the Monroe doctrine failed, so to speak, to enforce itself without our having a big army or a big navy?"

Judge Parker alluded to the Venezuelia affair as showing that we do not need big armies or navies for the enforcement of just demands, but that whether armed or unarmed every European power will go to the extreme of concession to avoid serious trouble with this republic.

"Every sensible man knows that there is not one of those powers which entertains the slightest idea of attacking us; that they will readily comply with whatever we can decently ask for, and that if we are to have any conflict with any one of them we shall have to bring it on ourselves by unendurable provocation. The simple reason is, that aside from what moral love of peace they may cherish, they can hardly afford to have a serious struggle with so resourceful and pertinacious an antagonist as this republic, in view of the possibility of dangerous complications at home.

"Our absolute safety from foreign aggression, as every reasonable person will admit, being thus assured, I may ask my sober-minded countrymen, for what purposes large armies and big navies—the characteristic and favorite adornment of empire—may be wanted by us? Being entirely unnecessary for defence, is the greatest navy in the world, or any big navy, the cost of construction and maintenance of which will run into the hundreds of millions, needed or intended for any other purpose? If not, then the building and maintenance thereof is a wanton waste of the people's money, wicked and unpardonable. But if it is designed for any other purpose, what is that purpose? The world abroad will too probably see in it a design of aggressive movements on our part. This would have a most unfortunate effect. Whether we entertain such plans or not—and I am confident a large majority of the American people do not entertain them—the world will always be distrustful of our professions of a peaceable disposition. However smooth our speeches may be in favor of peace congresses and arbitration courts, the world will see in the building of large navies, utterly unnecessary for defence, a threat of armed aggression—a transformation of the old republican peace power into an empire preparing for war. The inevitable result will be an additional element of apprehension and disquiet among nations. This republic will thus be a leader of a backward and most baneful movement, instead of leading in humane projects.

"I ask you now in all soberness, is it not best for the peace, well being and happiness of our people and for the preservation of our free institutions, to which we owe so much of our growth in comfort, wealth, and power, that instead of indulging our ambition in an adventurous policy of empire and dominion over foreign countries and alien populations; instead of squandering our substance in wholly unnecessary war establishments at immense cost; instead of sacrificing the great conservative principles and high ideals we inherited from the fathers to the false glitter of imperial greatness, which at all periods of human history has marked, the decay and perdition of republics; instead of provoking the distrust of all mankind by the display of armed force on every possible occasion, which raise a suspicion of vague and hazardous scheme, of restless ambition lurking in the background—we should return to the principles and ideals which during the first century of our national existence have proved so just and beneficent so that government of the people, by the people and for the people, may not perish from the earth? Should we not devote our material as well as our mental resources to the building up of ground, which is capable of infinitely greater development than it has so far attained, and to the solution of the social problems which surge upon us? Should we not cultivate peace and friendship with all nations, scrupulously respect their rights, as well as their legitimate feeling, spreading our commerce all over the world, not at the cannon's mouth, but by intelligent and industrious striving for superiority in friendly competition as to the quality and proportionate price of our goods? By so doing we should present to the world the inspiring example of a truly free people, peaceable and orderly, self-respecting and happy in their freedom and prosperity."

Judge Parker was driven from the Cooper Union to Carnegie Hall where he addressed a meeting under the auspices of the Westside Parker Independent Club.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Matters Still at a Deadlock Near Mukden. No Sign of a General Advance by the Japs—Report from Port Arthur.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3, 2:40 P. M. There is considerable anxiety here over the military situation. Little news has been received from Mukden, Gen. Sakahroff's telegram of November 1st merely indicating that matters were at a dead-lock around Shakhe. The Japanese have made some tentative moves on both flanks which were checked, but there are no signs yet of a general advance by their army.

Foreign reports from Port Arthur are decidedly gloomy. While the authorities continue to profess confidence in Gen. Stoessel's ability to hold out, the popular feeling is that the heroic garrison, which already has made a historic defence, must now be near the limit of human endurance.

Weather Bureau's Cable from Nag's Head to Manetoe, Roanoke Island, N. C.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., November 2.—The Weather Bureau's cable from Nag's Head to Manetoe, Roanoke Island, North Carolina, opened at half-past six this evening. The first message was a greeting from the Manetoe Chamber of Commerce to the chief of the Weather Bureau in Washington.

The laying of the cable is in line with the extensive improvements the government has undertaken in the service between Norfolk and Hatteras.

WHITE WOMAN KILLED

Struck on the Head With a Hoe by Her Nephew Near Bayboro, S. C.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 2.—A special from Conway says:

Mrs. McBell, a white woman about 40 years old, was killed near Bayboro, this county, late last night by her nephew, William Bell, who struck her on the head with a hoe. Mrs. Bell's skull was crushed and she lived only a few hours. The trouble arose over domestic affairs, Mrs. Bell having been separated from her husband three months ago. Bell was arrested.

WARM WIRELETS.

Two workmen were killed, two others seriously and several slightly injured by the sudden slipping from the stocks of a big steel barge, being built at Quincy, Mass., for the Standard Oil Company.

G. P. Sawyer and M. R. Prince, the two chain gang overseers charged with whipping to death Wade Hartley, were acquitted at Edgefield, S. C., the jury remaining out only about ten minutes.

The State Department has received a cablegram from the American embassy at St. Petersburg which warrants it in the assumption that the Russian government will soon agree to recognize passports of American Jews travelling in Russia.

A quarrel over a receipt for the payment of a board bill resulted in the killing yesterday of Hayden Y. Loring manager of the Loring Hotel near the St. Louis Exposition grounds by Norman M. Vaughan, manager of the Elks Publishing Company.

At Norfolk, Va., yesterday Mrs. Samuel Leveiln mistook a physician's order and gave her two year old boy an overdose of worm seed oil. The child died and the mother is on the verge of losing her mind from grief.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., November 2.—A reservoir of the municipal water works, located near the center of Winston, N. C, broke at 3 o'clock this morning, causing the loss of nine lives and the injury of four or five persons. The dead are: Mrs. Martin Peeples, Mrs. Vogler, Mrs. John Poe and 12 year old daughter, Mrs. Southern, John Southern, Miss Octavia Bailey Lucille Malone, and Caroline Martin. The two last named are colored.

The injured; Martin V. Peeples, both legs broken; Walter Peeples, injury to back; Gilley Jordan, slightly bruised. These are at the hospital. D. L. Payne, a travelling man, of Greensboro, may recover, though his condition prevents his removal to the hospital now.

The north side of the reservoir, which is thirty feet high, tumbled over, falling upon the home and barn of Martin V. Peeples. There were about 800,000 gallons of water in the reservoir, and the mad stream rushed northeast to the Southern Railway cut and thence to Belo's pond, a distance of a half mile.

Four tenement houses were washed several hundred yards. D. L. Payne, injured, said he was awakened by the crash and thought he was being swallowed by an earthquake. "I cannot describe my experience while I was floating on the mad rushing stream of water," said Mr. Payne after his removal to a house near the place where he was found.

There were several miraculous escapes. A colored man and his wife, named Davis, after their house was turned over, floated upon the stream of water on their bed to the railroad junction, a distance of 500 yards. The man jodged upon a heap of rubbish and walked out without a scratch.

The Winston aldermen met this morning and made arrangements to bury the dead and care for the injured.

The Winston reservoir was built in 1881 by a company composed of sixty citizens. Ten years ago it and the entire water plant were sold to the city. Soon thereafter ten feet were added to the heighth of the reservoir, which was full of water when the collapse came. The city has just had a large stand-pipe completed. It is full of water and the town is prepared to supply every demand.

Despite the early hour, the news of the disaster spread over the city in an incredibly short space of time, and within thirty minutes between 500 and 1,000 people surrounded the spot. An hour later the entire city was aroused and excited. Before the extent of the damage was known, and while it was thought that perhaps the members of the Peeples family were the only ones who had lost their lives, cries of distress were heard from down the street.

The thousands of gallons of water that flowed from the reservoir formed a pond in the vicinity and it was thought that several people might have been drowned in this. The city council met and decided to drain the pond in order to recover any bodies that might lie beneath the water.

The reservoir was situated about five blocks from the centre of the business district of the city and was surrounded by a number of residences and several small stores. It is understood that the structure had been condemned, but the city authorities had failed to remove it.

STUDENTS' RIOT IN BOSTON.

Free Fight With Police—Twenty-five Persons Injured—150 Officers Engaged With Four Times the Students.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., November 3.—At least 25 persons were injured during a clash between students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and police reserves shortly after midnight. Of the number twenty were students. Most of the injuries consisted of scalp wounds and body bruises. Four students and four officers were so seriously injured as to necessitate their removal to hospitals.

The trouble occurred on the steps of Rogers Hall, one of the Technology building. The police had determined to keep the students from the steps of the building, and when the college men made a rush up the steps they were met by the officers with drawn clubs and a free fight ensued. The officers used their clubs freely and soon many of the college men were bleeding from wounds on the face and head. Hundreds of students hurried to the support of their fellow students and the police in turn summoned assistance, with the result that soon 150 officers were engaged with four times as many students. It was half an hour before the police were masters of the situation.

McCUE MURDER TRIAL.

Argument of Counsel Begun—Opening Speech by Commonwealth's Attorney Wood—Speech for Defence.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Nov. 2.—Every seat in the Corporation Court room was occupied when the trial of ex-Mayor McCue, charged with the murder of his wife, was resumed today, and many were standing. The section of the gallery reserved for women was filled. With the accused were a number of relatives, and on either side of him was one or two of his children.

Capt. Micajah Woods, one of the attorneys for the Commonwealth, made the opening address.

C. B. Sinclaire, one of the junior counsel for the accused, opened the argument before the jury for the defence. Mr. Sinclaire made an extended review of the testimony. He closed with an eloquent appeal to the jury to carefully consider the burden of responsibility resting with them. The court adjourned at 10:35 P. M. until to-morrow.

Several battles have been fought between the posse and the outlaws who attempted to rob the First National Bank of Cody Tuesday afternoon and who murdered Cashier L. C. Middaugh. But the bandits are still at large.

Electric Car Crowded With People Derailed and Overturned.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Nov. 3.—A message from North Andover says a special electric car carrying the "Salem Witches" and "Danvers Jolly Tars," two campaign companies which participated in the Republican parade in this city last night, while running at a high rate of speed, was derailed and overturned. Many are reported injured. Physicians and police have gone from this city to the scene of the accident which is four miles east of here.

AIRSHIP ADRIFT.

When Last Seen Was Drifting Rapidly in a Northwesterly Direction.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—While Captain Baldwin, of San Francisco, inventor of the "California Arrow" airship, and several assistants were returning the airship from the place it landed in St. Louis county, after its unsuccessful flight, to the World's Fair the lead rope was dragged from the hands of Baldwin's assistan's and the air ship broke loose and soared into the air. When last seen the airship was drifting rapidly in a northwesterly direction.

Stopping an Artery.

The prompt application of the tourniquet or even of the finger to stop the bleeding of an artery before the doctor comes will often save life. A wound anywhere below the middle of the upper arm or below the middle of the thigh may be easily stopped by a tourniquet. The simplest improvised form of this implement, which may be always found ready to hand, is a linen handkerchief and a strong stick. The best place to apply the tourniquet for a wound of the arm is above the elbow, where the pulsations of an artery may be felt by any one.

The handkerchief should be tied around the arm rather loosely; the stick is thrust in and turned to tighten it until the blood ceases to flow. Of course this is only a temporary relief till the coming of the doctor, who, in case of serious bleeding, must be summoned as soon as possible. When you have nothing at hand in a case of sudden accident even the pressure of the forefinger and the thumb over the wound may arrest the flow of blood for the time.

The People Next Door.

The reason why the people next door are invariably regarded as most worthy of our javelins is plain to me. They have a piano. I do not know of any race that is quite so unpleasant as the people next door. They are not like any ordinary people who live elsewhere. They obtain their music on the hire system, as it were, and it is generally of the type we most detest. Are we worldly minded? They chasten us obtrusively with hymns—or Mendelssohn, who is for some obscure reason regarded as a moral force in the suburbs. Are we of the elect? They hurl at us with defiant persistency the latest blood curdler from the "halls." The thing that passes with them for a piano is called upon to do the work of three, and the wall dividing our respective houses, be it borne in mind, is a beautiful conductor of sound.—Outlook.

Nature's Distillery.

Chemists at one time believed that petroleum was formed in the depths of the earth by the action of water working on metallic carbons in a state of fusion. Now that statement is challenged by some geologists, who contend that petroleum is the result of putrefaction of animals which ages ago were swallowed in enormous cataclysms, similar to that at Mont Pelee. This upheaval, says Professor Engler, buried millions of prehistoric quadrupeds, lizards, serpents and sea monsters, and during all the cycles of years that have elapsed since then the bodies of these animals have been distilled by Mother Nature in her immense laboratory beneath the earth's surface. The result of this distillation, according to this theory, is petroleum.

How Aerolites Were Once Regarded.

The phenomena of shooting stars and other luminous appearances in the sky long acted as stimulants to the superstitious fears of the multitude. A red appearance was a fiery sword dipped in blood, a sinuous wavy line a fiery serpent, a number of such lines a fiery dragon, a cluster of diverging lines a rod for the scourging of nations. As shooting stars were common in August, about the time of the festival of St. Lawrence, they were said to be "the tears" of that martyr.—Notes and Queries.

A Hindoo Belief About Owls.

The Hindoos declare that the flesh and blood of an owl will make a person insane who eats or drinks it. On this account men who are devoured by jealousy of a rival or hatred of an enemy come furtively to the market and purchase an owl. In silence they carry it home and secretly prepare a decoction, which an accomplice will put into the food of the object of their malignant designs.

Albino Birds and Beasts Sacred.

It is noteworthy that albino animals are regarded by the Japanese in a superstitious light. The appearance of one is considered a good omen for the reigning mikado, and occasionally signalizes a reign. For example, one reign is called "hakuchi nenkan," or period of the white pheasant, another, the "haku hoo nenkan," or period of the white phenix.—London Globe.

French Women and English.

The French nation has undoubtedly put women on a higher scale than has the British. Wife beating is unknown among our Gallic friends, excitable though they are, and, as every one knows at home, that pastime is commonly indulged in by our lower classes at the expense of 2s. 6d. fine.—National Review.

—The proprietor of the Jones Carnival Co., of Norfolk, exhibiting this week at Lumberton, writes that the announcement that his attractions are coming to Wilmington, is a mistake. The company which the Naval Reserves hope to have is that managed by Mr. Percy Wells, formerly of this city.
